HANKOW TARGET FOR HUNDRED PLANES IN SPECTACULAR ATTACK

Wuchang and Hanyang Included in Disastrous Air Raid—Four Hundred Civilian Victims of Japanese Attack—Two American Mission Properties Hit in Rain of Bombs

HANKOW, China, Aug. 12 (P).—One hundred Japanese war planes virtually poured bombs into Hankow and the neighboring cities of Wuchang and Hanyang today in one of the Chinese-Japanese war's most disastrous and most spectacular air raids.

The bombs and the flames that spread in their wake killed or wounded 400 civilians of the tri-city area, which lies 600 miles up the Yangtze River in the heart of China.

Two American mission properties were directly hit. More than 300 residences, most of them humble, were destroyed, and tens of thousands of dollars worth of railway equipment, crude oil and kerosene were blown up.

JAPANESE COMMUNIQUE
(In Shanghai) A Japanese naval communiqué announced that the raid was 100 per cent effective and that the headquarters of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek were destroyed. Hankow is the Chinese provisional capital. The Japanese estimated there were 500 casualties.

No Chinese planes took the air to combat the invaders, who by big machines, dived over the city in the morning. There was an ineffective anti-aircraft fire.

MISSION HIT
In Wuchang the chapel of the Order of Saint Anne convent, operated by a mission of the American Episcopal Church, was demolished by a direct hit, while another bomb tore down a nearby Sisters' residence in which three American women missionaries, huddled under a staircase, escaped without a scratch.

Another bomb destroyed the American Seventh Day Adventist city club in Wuchang, killing

Merely Manoeuvres Is Berlin's Reply to Note From London

LONDON, Aug. 12 (P).—Havas—London has advised Berlin that intensified Nazi military preparations are being interpreted abroad as a "semi-mobilization" of the Reich's war forces, profoundly disturbing Germany's neighbors. It was understood on good authority tonight. The German Foreign Office is reported to have replied the preparations were merely for large-scale autumn manoeuvres requiring special arrangements.

The reports were that the German army had requisitioned private automobiles, trucks, furniture vans and even municipal buses in Bavaria in connection with forthcoming autumn manoeuvres; that more than 1,000,000 German reservists had been called to the colors; that Germany was speeding up construction of fortifications on her French and Polish frontiers.

Undercover Agent in Washington Charges Formation of Sabotage Machine

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (P).—An undercover agent told the United States House of Representatives committee on "un-American activities" today that the Nazi movement in the United States aims to set up a "vast spy network" and "powerful sabotage machine" for use in case of war.

These charges came from John C. Metcalfe, committee investigator and former Chicago newspaper man.

Metcalfe, a native of Germany who came to the United States in 1914, told of joining the German-American Bund under a German name, to become a trusted lieutenant of Fritz Kuhn, national Bund leader.

FAILED TO CO-OPERATE
He told Kuhn as saying he had Dr. H. H. Lischer, longtime German Ambassador to the United States, removed from his post for failure to co-operate completely with secret German-American Bund activities.

"I have secret relations with Germany whereby I can get anything I want," Kuhn said, according to Metcalfe.

CANNERY WAGE SCALE REDUCED

Board Meets Operators Half Way on Request for Minimum Wage Drop

The request of the tomato cannery operators for a reduction in minimum wages was met half way by the Board of Industrial Relations yesterday, when the board agreed to reduce the wage for experienced women workers from 30 to 27 cents an hour, for men from 38 to 35 cents an hour, and for boys from 28 to 25 cents an hour.

Without giving a guarantee that carrying operations would be commenced if the reductions they sought were made the canners had asked that the minimum wage for men and women should be dropped to 30 cents and 25 cents respectively. The rate for inexperienced women workers, of whom the canneries are allowed 10 per cent, is to remain at 25 cents an hour, as formerly.

TO START MONDAY

VANCOUVER, Aug. 12 (P).—British Columbia tomato canners will start operations on Monday as the result of the Board of Industrial Relations decision reducing the minimum wage for cannery workers approximately 10 per cent. Hugh Laidlaw, of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association announced here today.

Payment to Decrease City's Bank Loan Is Approved by Council

Bank of Montreal to Receive $50,000 — Bond Substitution Agreements to Be Executed — Coupons on Old Bonds Cannot Be Cashed

ACTING on the recommendation of the Board of Debt Retirement Trustees, the City Council last night resolved that a payment of $50,000 should be made to the Bank of Montreal in reduction of the city's capital bank loan.

Without discussion, a communication from the Young Communist League protesting against the amendment to the street traffic and regulation by-law which prohibits unauthorized parades and demonstrations, was received and filed.

The city cannot cash coupons on old bonds. It was explained by D. A. Macdonald, city controller-treasurer, when the council had under consideration a letter from the Okanagan Investments Company, Limited, regarding the exchanging of old bonds for debt refunding bonds. Mr. Macdonald explained that the company desired to hold the old bonds until October, but wished to cash the old coupons. This could not be done, but the company, if it desired, could turn in the old bonds for new, and could cash the coupons on the latter, he pointed out.

MAGISTRATE'S SALARY
A copy of an order-in-council recommending the adjustment of the police magistrate's salary in line with the restorations made to civil employees was referred to the police commissioners. A request by the assistant city engineer for an adjustment of his salary was referred to the special committee on wages.

LOGGING DELAYED
The council referred to the water board a request by the Kapor Lumber Company for an extension of its logging contract from December 1, 1938 to June 30, 1939. The company pointed out that owing to unforeseen hindrances to logging operations it would be impossible to complete the logging and removal of the remaining lumber by December 1.

Alderman James Adam recommended that if the term were extended, the council should use every endeavor to see that white men were employed by the company.

JOHN WALLACE DIES SUDDENLY

PAST GRAND MASTER

A Liberal in politics, Trustee Wallace was active in the ranks of Liberalism in this city, and was a past president of the Victoria Liberal Association. He was an active member of First United Church, being an elder for many years. He was a member of Vancouver-Quadra Lodge, No. 2, A.F. & A.M. He was a past grand master of the Local Orange Association of British Columbia, and also past grand master of the Grand Black Chapter of British Columbia.

Trustee Wallace is survived by his wife, at the family residence; one daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) Bruce G. Gray, Toronto; and three sons, Robert, Douglas, and Lawrence. Wallace, all of this city, and one sister, Mrs. Jennie Helgesen, Metcosh. The remains are reposing at McCall Bros' Funeral Home, pending funeral arrangements, which will be announced later.

PAYS TRIBUTE

Tribute to the splendid work which Trustee Wallace had rendered on the school board was paid last night by Trustee Percy E. George, chairman of the board. He was deeply shocked to learn of the passing of Trustee Wallace. He was a valuable member of the board, and his death will be quite a loss to the board and to the educational system. He was very sincere and dependable in the conduct of his trustee duties, and had the best interests of the system, the staff and the youths in general at heart, declared Trustee George.

GERMANY TO STAGE VAST MANOEUVRES

The step emphasized one of the fundamental differences between the German army and those of other European nations, such as France and Italy.

KEPT AT FULL QUOTA

Germany's regular army, observers said, was kept at war strength in peace—every company of 170 men has had its full quota constantly. This meant that full units could fan out from their garrisons at a moment's call.

In France, on the other hand, company units are not kept filled, although at full they strength they would have 170 men. Thus, in France calling the reserves merely means filling the ranks of regular army companies.

In Germany, it will mean placing entire divisions of reserves in the field, in addition to regular army divisions.

The two weeks following next Monday, it is believed, will be devoted to organization of the reserves into units and fundamental training, so that by September 1 the joint regular-reserve manoeuvres can begin to hit their stride, with a peak in the operations expected to come between September 9 and 14.

As the tempo of the preparations increased throughout the country, the people themselves were becoming worried at prospects there might be more than military manoeuvring in the situation.

Citizens of Bavaria, Saxony and Silesia, particularly, were upset because of their proximity to Czechoslovakia. The preparations were proceeding at such a pace that across the border Czechoslovakians were worried.

Responsible Czech quarters said, however, that without doubt Czechoslovakia had taken measures to meet any possible surprise manoeuvring which might affect Czechoslovakia.

MINESWEEPER TAKES WATER

Gaspe, Third of Vessels for National Defence, Is Launched at Quebec

QUEBEC, Aug. 12 (P)—H.M.C.S. Gaspe, one of four minesweepers built on order of the Federal Government, was launched here today at the flag-decked docks of the Morton Engineering & Drydock Company.

While Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice and maritime affairs, watched, Mrs. Lapointe crashed the traditional bottle of champagne against the vessel's steel hull.

In a brief address, the Minister of Justice told guests at the launching that the ship and her three sister ships were built "to protect the St. Lawrence River gateway to Canada and a vital factor in the physical structure of our country."

"We are a peaceful country in a non-peaceful world, and furthermore we wish to remain at peace," he said.

The fourth, H.M.C.S. Noctua, will be launched at Esquimau, B.C. later this month.

The Fundy and the Comox have already been sent down the coast and all four will likely be in commission before the end of the year. About the last week in August the Royal Canadian Navy will receive further strength when the two destroyers, Ottawa and Restigouche arrive from England. Naval crews are already there to bring them over. They will be stationed at Esquimau.

INDIAN DRAMA IS DISCUSSED

Prof. Ernest P. Horowitz Gives Talk to Appreciative Qualicum Audience

QUALICUM BEACH, Aug. 12.—A brilliant exposition of the native drama of India was given last evening in the Community Hall by Prof. Ernest P. Horowitz, lately professor of Sanskrit at the University of Bombay and Dublin, before a large audience of drama school students and visitors. The Indian drama, he said, is of great antiquity and early developed a technique rivaling that of the Shakespearean drama which followed it centuries later. Buddhism with its humanitarian influences had a great effect upon it.

The speaker outlined the plots of several plays, including the celebrated "Sakuntala" by Kalidasa, dating from the fifth century A.D. showing the deep mystical teaching underlying them. His masterly presentation drew a warm reception from the audience, who insisted on his continuing for some time after he attempted to close.

Prof. Horowitz was introduced by Roth Gordon, M.A., acting director of the school during the temporary absence of Major Bullock-Webster.

Much interest continues to be shown in all classes, and rehearsals for the production of "Palo and Francesca" on Saturday are in full swing. Social activities are being arranged under Mrs. W. Corbett, who is acting as social hostess in place of Miss Mollie Bigwood, who was prevented by illness from attending. A picnic on the Little Qualicum Falls on Wednesday was cancelled owing to a slight shower, but it is hoped that it will take place on Sunday afternoon.

TRACK BLOWN UP

Bombs released from Japanese planes, which dived low over the Canton-Hankow Railway terminal, blew up entire sections of track and killed the majority of occupants of a nearby building in which there were several girl refugees.

Although the bombing attained a high degree of accuracy being centred at railway yards and buildings, innocent civilians were the greatest sufferers.

The hunting of migratory game birds on areas baited with grain or other artificial food is prohibited. ## WES FERRELL IS GIVEN RELEASE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (P)—Pittner Wesley Ferrell—given his unconditional release by Washington Senators today—said he doesn't intend to play any more baseball this year.

"I told him," said Clark Griffith, president of the Senators, "about two or three parties that seemed to be interested in him, but he did not seem to be interested in them." The veteran hurler—who was offered to every club in both major leagues with one taken—estimated he would return shortly to his Guilford, N.C. home.

Ferrell's salary, it was said here, probably had a lot to do with other club's failures to claim him. He was considered one of the league's paid players on the Senators' payroll. Ferrell broke into the majors with one of the fastest balls in the business. For Cleveland, in 1910, he recorded twenty-one victories.

Nanaimo Ratepayers To Decide Today on Waterworks Proposal

Arguments For and Against Borrowing $200,000 to Complete Pipeline in Two Years Heard on Eve of Referendum—Opinion Divided

NANAIMO, Aug. 12.—At a public meeting tonight Nanaimo ratepayers entered in a free-for-all discussion following speeches by members of the council on the proposed referendum which will be taken on Saturday to determine whether or not the city shall borrow the sum of $200,000 to complete the waterworks pipeline system in two years. If the referendum carries the present pay-as-you-go system in vogue, designed to complete the line in seven years, will be scrapped.

Speaking in favor of borrowing the money, Alderman Kerr stated that the first genuine attempt made by the Federal Government to solve unemployment, and it was, in his opinion, up to the citizens of Nanaimo to see that the plebiscite carried. "We have the best supply of water in the world at the South Forks Dam doing Nanaimo little good until the permanent pipeline is completed to bring it in," he said. He warned against the hazard of forest fire in a bad stretch of the pipeline, which had to be saturated with water during the dry spell. Should a fire start there, he said, nothing could prevent it from disrupting the system, which explained the reason for the day and night patrol kept there. He pointed out that men would have at least two weeks' work assured for two years as compared with one and two days received by many at the present time. The money in circulation would have a favorable effect.

MILL RATE NOT AFFECTED
Mayor Harrison emphatically stated that the mill rate would not be raised by the borrowing of the money. "In fact," his Worship declared, "we will be able to use money now spent on unemployment to buy back city bonds and start the first step towards reducing taxation."

There are five miles of pipeline to be permanently replaced. The mayor spoke against the pay-as-you-go scheme now in vogue, because the estimated revenue had fallen down by more than $5,000 this year, which was the reason for pipe being allowed to lie on the ground.

Alderman J. Hindmarch, chairman of the finance committee, submitted figures for and against both schemes. The scheme of borrowing the money to complete it in two years would relieve the anxiety of the citizens of Nanaimo at the end of that period, and a saving of $4,000 a year would be effected by eliminating repair labor, which would meet the interest payments on the loan. Fifty per cent of the money would go for supplies, which means that $100,000 would go in circulation for labor.

OPPOSE BORROWING
Alderman George Muir vigorously protested against the borrowing of the money, and Alderman Greaves and Alderman Drake also opposed it. One speaker in the audience reminded that meeting that last year the hospital amalgam had warned against contamination in Chase River Reservoir.

Alderman Knox doubted if the long-term plan of renewing the pipeline could be effected in the allotted time of seven years. Meanwhile he said, under present conditions if new industry made application for water the answer would have to be "wait until winter." Public services were suffering because the water system was getting most of the money, and he urged the people to support the scheme to borrow the money.

ing an opponent for Germany in the inter-zone final still far from decided, and heightened interest in tomorrow's doubles match.

Captain Tampo also said tonight Yamaguchi and Nakamura were representing Japan. Harry Hopman, Australian captain, chose Quist and Brown, with a combination undefeated in two years of international competition.

"Yamaguchi had too much polish for Brown," today and Quist too much experience for Nakamura. The first match was the closest as Nakamura matched his Aussie opponent stroke for stroke until the last set.

Brown matched the fast-moving Japanese in baseline duels, but could not compete with his tantalizing drop shots and perfectly placed lobs.

READY FOR DUTY
The colonel, just home from Poon, walked down to the local inn for a nightcap.

Before long a meek-looking little man called out to the landlord. "Take away the empties, George. There's like the British Army."

This was too much for the colonel, who jumped up and demanded an explanation and an apology for what he termed an insult.

"There was no insult, sir," replied the little man, with a smile. "They've done their duty and now they're ready to do it again."

The colonel quickly paid for the round.

MOTORMEN STATE CASE

Delegation Urges Consideration for Operators When Franchise Ends

A delegation from the Street-Railwaymen's Association, appearing before the City Council last night, urged that the existing city transportation service should be continued, or, in the alternative, that present street-car operators and their employees should receive first consideration for engagement in any new system that might be established.

Mayor Andrew McGavin pointed out to the delegation that continuance of the street-car system did not rest with the council. He assured the delegation, however, that he had no doubt that whatever company took over transportation for the city it would do everything possible to find places for the men thrown out of employment by the cessation of the street-car system.

SPECIALIZED WORK
Heading the delegation, Edwin F. Fox explained that 150 men who had been in the employ of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company for from twenty to forty-five years were affected. Owing to the fact that their work was specialized work, the majority of the men would find it impossible to adapt themselves to any occupation other than transportation.

The payroll for street-car employees last year amounted to $1,150,000 and in direct taxation the men had paid approximately $5,000 to the city, $500 to Saanich, $400 to Oak Bay, and $200 to Esquimalt.

KEPT OFF RELIEF
Mr. Fox reminded the council, also, of the co-operative action taken by street railway employees to keep many of their number off relief during the depression period. He stated that he was not speaking on behalf of the company, but for the employees. The company, he said, had not informed the men as to its intentions.

The council referred the question to its franchise committee. "There is no question that the committee will try to work you in," Mayor McGavin said.

In a letter to the council, Harold Husband requested that he should be given an opportunity to submit a tender when the council called for bids on the transportation franchise. Mr. Husband also plans to approach the Oak Bay and Esquimalt Councils with a similar request.

The City Council referred the matter to the franchise committee. A similar course was taken with a communication from H. H. Wilcox, suggesting the introduction of a steam bus service as a means of eliminating noise.

Maranville Resigns
MONTREAL, Aug. 12.—Walter (Rabbit) Maranville resigned tonight as manager of the slumping Montreal Royals of the International League. First baseman Alex Hoots, in his first year with the Royals, was named pilot until the end of the season.

The Rabbit handed in his resignation in the midst of his second season as Royals manager, as the team came home from a disastrous road trip that saw it slip into second-last place in the standings, ahead of only Baltimore Orioles.

Council officials announced he had asked for release from his contract tonight after Royals split a double-header with Jersey City Giants.

REORGANIZES CABINET
LA PAZ, Bolivia, Aug. 12.—President German Busch today announced appointment of a reorganized cabinet, predominantly Socialist, succeeding the cabinet which resigned yesterday.

A QUESTION OF SAFETY
The Florida beach and the blue sky looked inviting to the visitor, but before venturing out to swim he thought to make sure.

"You're sure there are no alligators here?" he inquired of the guide.

"Noah," replied the guide, grinning broadly. "Ain't no alligators here."

Reassured, the tourist started out. As the water lapped about his chest he called back.

"What makes you so sure there aren't any alligators?"

"Let's get too much sense," belated the guide. "De sharks done scared dem all away."

A SUCCESSFUL DECOY
"Jim!" said the taxi-driver's friend, "there's a purse lying in the bottom of your car."

"Hush!" said Jim. "I put it in there and left the door open. You have no idea how many people will jump in for a short ride when they see it."

Ladies' Drill Team Has 130 Applicants For Fifteen Places

SO great is the popularity of the Victoria ladies' drill team, recently organized by Captain Norman Foster for the Junior Chamber of Commerce parade, that when the call for an additional fifteen young ladies was issued last week, more than 130 responded for Thursday evening's rehearsal. Eighteen comely girls, in their teens and early twenties, were selected from the large number of applicants, and are expected to form the team with the original fifteen who attracted such widespread interest among Victorians. Drill practices will be held weekly on Thursday evenings, in preparation for what is hoped to be an active season, performing at public functions.

OFFERS REWARD FOR CONVICTION

North Cowichan Council Seeks Information on Alleged Incendiarist

DUNCAN, Aug. 12.—The North Cowichan Council is offering a reward of $250 for information leading to the conviction of person or persons lighting fires without a permit in the municipal area, and especially for information regarding alleged incendiary fires said to have been lighted near Chemung River on July 30, and at Crofton yesterday.

There is no doubt of the incendiary origin of these fires. Yesterday at 5 p.m., smoke was seen rising in plain on municipal land near the Garrison property in the vicinity of Bunsall Road and Crofton branch of the E. & N. Railway. The fires were discovered by Fred Bunsall and David Evans. Bunsall stated that there was no doubt that the fires were deliberately set. Three fires were burning on one side of the railway and four on the other. The fires were about 100 yards apart and each was about twenty yards across.

The municipal fire warden, W. Rife, was called and placed a crew of fire fighters on the job, who soon had the situation in hand.

Revealed Chapman states that no fire fighters will be hired in the Chemung or Crofton areas to fight fires in their own districts, and that a policy has been inaugurated which calls for men from the south of the district to cope with fires in the north, and vice versa.

LAFFOON LEADING

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12.—Ky Laffoon, Chicago, toured the Oakwood course today—two under par and two strokes ahead of the pack in the $10,000 Cleveland open golf tournament. He wound up with a 69 for a two-day total of 70-69-139.

Billy Burke, of Cleveland, and Toney Pinnas, of Dayton, O., were closest to his heels, both with 71-70-141.

Tomorrow the field will be narrowed down to those with 153 totals or better and the pace accelerated.

MUNICIPAL TAXATION

Speaking the other day as Federal Conservative leader, Dr. Manion brought to public attention again one of the country's most pressing problems, that of municipal taxation. He stated that the present high taxation on real estate was retarding business recovery, and that to bring a lightening of the load on the ratepayer it was essential that the Dominion Government assume the burden of relief costs. In this view he will be joined by property owners generally and most persons associated with municipal governments throughout the country. The inclusion in the policy resolutions of the National Conservative Party of an item which read, "the reduction of taxes on real estate," indicates the possibility of political action. The statement of the party leader further confirms the possibility.

Another who has drawn attention to the situation is Sir Thomas White, who recently stated that real estate taxes are blocking recovery. "High municipal taxes are killing home owning and stifling the building industry," he said. "So long as the building industry is moribund there will be unemployment, and unemployment means high relief costs. It becomes a vicious circle." As Sir Thomas indicates, the problems of municipal taxation and unemployment are closely bound together, but to deal with the general problem the two must be separated. Relief was not originally caused by anything which could be attributed directly to real estate, but its cost has been carried in a large measure by this one private asset. The cause of unemployment has been largely industrial dislocation, dislocation among all groups of industries, including agriculture. The Federal Government has control over trade and industry and its allied activities, and, therefore, might be expected to accept full responsibility in regard to industrial relief.

Another important item in the levy against real estate is the cost of social services such as education, which forms about one-third of municipal expenditures. There is no more valid reason for education costs being levied on real estate than relief charges, but here the Federal authority has no direct jurisdiction. The removal of the heavy load into some other field of taxation is not so simple, and the provinces, without new revenue sources, would be in no position to increase their commitments on a large scale. Numerous municipalities are giving considerable thought to the problem and quite a number have been preparing suggestions. In British Columbia, the problem is expected to be the most important on the agenda of the next meeting of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, and out of the convention should come some worthwhile contributions.

Assistance on a scale never before offered is available to the prospective home builder in Canada. Inducement to build has been made as attractive as possible, yet there is considerable antipathy to the appeals to stimulate employment by home building. This is due largely to the heavy municipal taxation which under the present system amounts to an ownership tax rather than an occupancy levy. Until taxes on real estate are more equitable, the inducements offered to prospective home builders will be largely nullified.

THE UNEMPLOYABLES

An American investigator who has had extensive experience in looking into the causes of delinquency has set out in the July Atlantic some of the results of his researches into the mentality of a certain class of unemployables. Broadly speaking, the unemployables include the young who have not had time to acquire either strength or skill, the old who have lost both, the mentally subnormal, and those who are physically incompetent through disease or accident. These are rightly described as unemployable and they have a claim for public support. One of the chief social problems of the day, however, is presented by another class of unemployables, that large group of persons who, though able-bodied enough and capable of holding jobs, cannot and will not remain regularly at work. They are well enough endowed with brains and they possess varied talents, but they are unemployable. The difficulty with these is not chiefly in the physical nor yet in the intellectual sphere. The problem is mainly, indeed, a moral one. Physically strong, mentally alert, they are essentially lacking in moral purpose. Discipline in their case has been wholly neglected. Their moral natures have undergone no development whatever since they left the nursery. Their attitude towards life is not that of the normal adult. They have never, in fact, grown up. They reside permanently in a world of emotional immaturity. Like children they want to enjoy the good things of life free, gratis, and not as the reward of personal effort.

Have these emotionally retarded adults any real desire to obtain jobs? When offered the alternative of remaining on relief or going to work, many of them are emphatic in declaring their preference for a job. Are they, however, in every truth anxious and willing to leave the flesh pots of the sheltered life in order to go on their own? Or are they, perhaps subconsciously, drawn irresistibly back into the easier passive, receptive, dependent state? The answer given in this study is that the man of this type, who is most emphatic in declaring his preference for a job, does not as a general thing bring forth fruits to meet for repentance.

A few cases from the investigator's portfolio should prove illuminating. Mr. A. earns $55 a month. He has a family of eight. He pampers his son, a hulking youth of twenty-one, to such an extent that the son could not hold a job as errand boy because he would not get up in time to start work at 9 o'clock. Mrs. B. bought an electric sewing machine for which she had little use, an electric cleaner and a set of Shakespeare.

Her husband's wages as a grocery clerk could not cover the payments, and they lost all three and their credit as well. Miss C. says that she gets along as well without a job. She says that she has the same holes in her shoes and the same runs in her stockings whether she works or not. She would be $9 a week ahead of the game if she took a job, but she does not care for the exertion. Mr. D. actually got to the point of believing the entertaining stories he invented about his efforts to obtain work. Mr. E., who is only thirty-five, might learn a new trade, but he remains on relief and describes himself as a victim of the machine age. Mr. F. obtains positions, but does not like them well enough to hold them. Mr. G. is ambitious for advancement, but the promotion of his associates stirred him to jealousy and intrigue, and this resulted in dismissal.

Such unemployables are not a new phenomenon, but probably antedate civilization. They are a costly drag on society. There is one effective way to eliminate them. That is by improving the discipline of family life. It is in the ill-disciplined home that the unemployables get their unhappy disposition.

THE GORGE AND TOURISTS

A lot of water has passed over the reversible rapids of "The Gorge" since the lovely waterway was first chosen as the scene of Victoria's yearly Empire Day celebrations. Known then as the "Queen's Birthday," it became an annual holiday, giving man, woman and child an opportunity to fittingly celebrate the natal day of a great woman, who was at the same time Queen of England and the first Empress of India. Needless to state, the entire community could be found every 24th of May lining the points of vantage along the shores of Victoria's sea arm or occupying the hundreds of gaily-decorated boats and canoes massed for a considerable distance on both sides of the waterway below the bridge. With plenty of color on every hand and with little bits of carnival atmosphere added to further stimulate the holiday spirit, this yearly event proved an attraction which gradually drew crowds of excursionists from nearby cities, many of whom, while they contributed to the success of the occasion, envied Victoria the advantage of possessing a setting so ideal for the staging of a unique celebration. True, Victoria was smaller then, and was fortunate in having a number of Royal Navy ships stationed at Esquimalt, their officers and men being always contributing a goodly share of events to the day's programme, and rivalry, as between vessels, always was keen. In addition to the naval events, Indian tribes from the various reservations of British Columbia and Washington, provided war canoe and "klootchmen's" races, while their white brethren of local and visiting rowing organizations competed in racing out-riggers, canoes and plain rowboats.

What have memories of those bygone days got to do with the Victoria of the present? Little other than to provide an opportunity for pointing out that the waterway still ebbs and flows under the Gorge Bridge just as it did in the decades of the past. Incidentally many visitors arriving here wonder why the city does not develop something individual in the way of a tourist attraction, distinguishing itself as some other Pacific Coast communities have done through rose and flower festivals, polishes and rodeos. So far in these parts there is no place bidding for tourist travel that features a water festival, for which Victoria possesses advantages all her own. With an expanding Canadian navy to provide a large section of color so essential to the success of a water festival, it would only be a matter of circulating a promise of prizes to bring canoeists from Coast Indian villages to participate and assure the success of some such featured play-day from the outset.

If Mr. Corrigan should announce while he is visiting in the Eastern United States that he will take off for Ireland to test his skill at navigation over the ocean, he might be expected to arrive home within a few hours of his departure.

Pet Peeves

For some reason or other—or perhaps we have that look—many of our friends this week suddenly insisted in leading us aside and pouring out their pet hates into our ear. We pass them on to you for what they're worth, perhaps you have some of your own you might like to add to the list. George, our filling station attendant, says that he is going to shoot the next pedestrian that short cuts through his station and walks on the little rubber hose across the driveway. The footstep apparently rings the bell inside just as effectively as the weight of a car wheel and he says he is getting behind in his reading through getting up to chase non-existent customers. John, our rather elongated acquaintance, wishes they would clip the trees that overhang the hill on St. Charles Street. He says that the hill is bad enough without having to walk up it bent over double. Joe, the electrician, wishes that somebody would insulate those low-hanging wires that lead into a well-known hotel on Beach Drive out in Oak Bay. There is apparently enough voltage in them to kill any boy who happened to touch them with a wet stick of a piece of wire. Mollie, the hairdresser, wishes that insurance rates for beauty parlors weren't as high as they are. Slightly singed clients are apparently in the habit of suing for all they can get—and our own is that we can't think of something better to put in this column right off hand—J.A.M.

Keating Squire Again

The following was composed by the Keating Squire, and is entitled "Utopia": "On the thirty-second day of the thirteenth month, on the twenty-fifth hour of the sixty-first minute, we shall find all things as we seek. They are in the limbs of a Lollipop Land, a cloud island resting on air, on the powder side of the mountain of mist in the valley of overture. On a solid vapor foundation of cloud are palaces made of air; on a solid vapor foundation of cloud are hovels both grand and fair. And there is where our dreams will come true, and the seeds of our hope will grow on the thitherward side of the hills of hope in the hamlet of Hocus Po. We shall see all the things that we want to see and know all the things we want to know. For there old men will never lament, and babies will never weep, and at the crossroad corners of Chaosville in the County of Hideoango, on the thirty-second day of the thirteenth month on the eighth day of the week, we shall do all the things we please and accomplish all we seek on the sun-moonest shore of some other, other, by the beautiful Bay of Byandby."—G.B.

Glancing Over Sport

Here's hoping that Mrs. Ben Hethey (Gwen Spencer) continues her sensational marksmanship today at the Connaught Rifle Ranges and comes through to the Dominion-Generals match at the Dominion meeting. She fired a great possible over the range to win the qualifying stage, and is in a grand position to create history when the field of 150 start shooting in today's final stage. Not so long ago the Yankees were worrying about the Detroit Tigers, but now the auto town nine is so far behind that McCarthy's crew isn't thinking about them. Paul Rowe, one of Victoria's finest athletes, will be playing for the Toronto Argonauts Canadian football team. He is forsaking the American game, which he played in Portland for the University of Oregon last year, and may help the Argos win another title. Al Johnson, radio singer and movie star, who has an interest in Henry Armstrong, has bet more than $100,000 that the colored sensation scores a knockout victory over Lou Ambers next Wednesday evening at the Polo Grounds in New York. These marathon golfers are setting a fast pace these days. One chap races around a course for 240 hours, a new record. His radioing partner in relay as the grueling pace was too fast for the bag-toles—J.D.

Speaking of Universities

The chancellor of the University of British Columbia appears to be somewhat annoyed that Victoria should want anything in connection with university extension. The chancellor lived long enough on Vancouver Island and knows Victoria well enough to realize that the extension of the province of British Columbia is especially endowed as a model site for a university. Apart from the doubtful advantage of being located within the large centre of population that is characteristic of Vancouver, all other arguments for the extension of the University of British Columbia are pointed to Victoria—O.H.N.

KLONDIKERS BANQUET

BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 12.—Members of the Klondike Club, veterans of the famous Yukon gold rush in 1898 and 1899 held their annual banquet last night at the Brantford Old Home Week, and members pledged to hold an annual banquet as long as one old Klondike prospector or miner still lived.

PLEADS GUILTY IN RING CASE

Low Choy to Receive Sentence in City Police Court Today

Charged in the city police court yesterday morning with the theft of four diamond rings on or about July 15 from Frederick William Francis, Low Choy pleaded guilty through his defence counsel, Frank Higgins, K.C., and was remanded until this morning for sentence.

Mr. Francis testified that Choy came to his store on July 2 and paid the balance of an outstanding account. He secured a diamond ring on approval to show his wife, and obtained three others the same way on July 5, 7 and 8.

On July 14, Mr. Francis asked Choy to return the rings in order that they might be placed in stock. When unsuccessful, he swore to an information to show his wife, and identified them in court when produced by Detective Fearon Woodburn.

RECOVERS RINGS
Detective Woodburn described the arrest of the accused. He was accompanied by Detective P. W. Richards. Through the Pacific Jewelry & Loan Company, he learned a man named Walsh had loaned the Chinese $350 on the rings. They were recovered by the detectives in bank safety deposit boxes.

H. A. Beckwith informed the court that he appeared for Mr. Walsh, and might seek the opportunity to make submissions.

Mr. Higgins submitted that Choy was a married man who had never been in trouble before. He received a letter from China that his mother and family were rendered destitute through a bombardment, and was forced to raise money to assist them.

PEARSE TO SERVE TERM IN PRISON

Accused Receives Sentence of Six Months at Hard Labor on Each Of Three Charges

Magistrate Henry C. Hall sentenced Charles Pearce to serve six months in prison at hard labor on each of three charges, the sentences to run concurrently, when the accused appeared in the city police court yesterday.

On Thursday morning Pearce pleaded guilty to charges involving the theft of an electric razor from Frederick George Walker, obtaining $194 worth of clothing from W. J. Wilson, and two Gladstone bags over the value of $25 from the Hudson's Bay Company, by false pretences with intent to defraud.

When asked by the magistrate if he had anything to say, Pearce stated:

"I realize the seriousness of the offences. I committed the crimes while in a state of intoxication, and will take an absolute cure as soon as possible. I am sorry for my actions, and I am giving my lawyer to collect money from Reno to make reparation of all losses sustained."

How It Started

VIRGIN ISLANDS (COMMONWEALTH OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS)

We know them as Uncle Sam's land of rum and romance, bay rum and molasses, hides and sugar; but long before the United States came into the picture and far antedating this prosaic reputation, the Virgin Islands boasted a past which the future will be hard put to it to emulate.

"Hectic" understates the career of these one hundred and ninety thousand square miles. The Spaniards were the first whites to play a part upon their stage, Denmark of old nations, also played its bit. And Great Britain, of course, had its customary lead.

Last but far from the least feature of interest in this picture is connected with its name. For, so runs the tale, when Columbus, on his second voyage, first sighted this cluster of islands in November, 1493, he was so overwhelmed by their beauty, that he called them Las Virgenes (The Virgins), in honor of Ursula, daughter of Dianthus, King of Cornwall, her ten companions and the ten thousand virgins making up her party, each and every single one of whom was martyred by the Huns in the year 237, at Cologne, where adverse winds drove them while the band was en route to France to meet the fiancé of the princess.

KILLED BY SWERVE TO AVOID A CHILD
TORONTO, Aug. 12.—Henry Samuel Denny was killed yesterday when his car crashed into a tree as he swerved to avoid a child playing in the road.

Mr. Denny was thrown clear of the wreck, but a piece of the broken steering wheel pierced his neck, causing death. Mr. Denny was president of the Suburban Contact Mines, Ltd., and of Mentor Exploration & Development Co., Ltd.

ANSCOMB TALKS ON PARTY PLAN

Conservative Member for Victoria Addresses Meeting in East Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Aug. 12.—Herbert Anscomb, M.P. for Victoria, told a political meeting here last night that the British Columbia Conservative Party should appoint a paid organizer to tour the Province and should have his candidates in the field at least a year before an election.

The Conservative member of the Legislature for Victoria City spoke to a meeting of the Vancouver East Conservative Association. He also urged a "same policy."

SOCIAL SERVICES
The Victoria member said if he had anything to do with it, he would lift social service costs from the shoulders of the municipalities, where it should never have been placed. Unemployment should be dealt with Federally by a non-partisan department, as advocated by the new Dominion Conservative leader, Dr. Manion.

Unemployment and sickness insurance were two things that must be inaugurated provincially or Federally by the Conservative Party, he said.

We can build up health and unemployment insurance as successful as they have in Great Britain," Mr. Anscomb declared.

The Victoria member paid tribute to the late provincial leader, Dr. Frank Patterson, and said that the Conservative Party had planned to visit all the constituencies in the Province starting last May 1. He had asked Mr. Anscomb to accompany him, and the latter had accepted.

IN EVERY RIDING
Now that he has passed on I have been using since May 1 to speak in every riding in the Interior, Mr. Anscomb told the meeting.

Right after the provincial convention next month we should appoint a paid organizer who will travel the Province from one end to the other. We must also adopt a new attitude in regard to elections, and that is we must have candidates in the field at least one year before election, and not as in B.C., where candidates are put in the field only a few days before the election.

Re-emphasizing the policies adopted at the National Conservative Convention at Ottawa, Mr. Anscomb declared the Conservatives had made it clear they would stand with Great Britain, no matter what the trouble might be.

He praised the selection of Dr. Manion as Dominion leader.

ROTARY PARLEY SET FOR JUNEAU

Frank Doherty Tells Local Clubmen of Meeting of Officials At Longview

Frank Doherty, who attended the district gathering of presidents and secretaries of Rotary Clubs at Longview, Wash., offered a report on the proceedings at Thursday's meeting of the Victoria club in the Empress Hotel. He spoke very highly of Marshall Corbett, Klamath Falls, Ore., the present governor of the district, and as a result of his business-like methods the gathering was eminently successful. Paul Kruger gave much valuable information as past governor.

Mr. Doherty said that two hours of the time were spent in the discussion of boys' work. The Everett club had been giving considerable attention to the blind. In this connection, information was given regarding what is known as the "Seeing Eye," where dogs were provided for blind persons. These dogs were raised at a cost of about $300 each, but the results were very satisfactory.

There was also put forward the idea of getting the boys of the communities together and by means of inquiries finding what were the problems of these boys.

It was expected that the district gathering would be held in Juneau next year with stops at Prince Rupert and Kitimat for meetings at these points with the Rotarians of the places named.

It was announced that on Wednesday, August 24, members of the local Rotary Club would pay a fraternal visit to Port Angeles and have luncheon with the club of that place.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Colonist of August 13, 1888.

May Seek Incorporation—The people of Kamloops are agitating in favor of having their town incorporated. On Friday evening a meeting of gentlemen favorable to the movement was held in Gordon's store with Dr. Clarke, chairman, and E. Henry, secretary. A committee was appointed to draw up a petition in favor of incorporation, according to the requirements of the Municipalities Act, and to submit it to the citizens for signature. If sufficient signatures are secured the petition will be forwarded to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-council for action granting incorporation.

The Star Mine at Nicola—Manager Henderson of the Star Mine Nicola, who has recently erected concentration works on his property, was in Kamloops last Tuesday. In answer to a Sentinel inquiry, he stated that the work of crushing ore would begin the following morning or Wednesday last. He is confident that the Star property is valuable and will handsomely repay the cost of development.

Drowned in Nanaimo River—J. C. Cosser, postmaster of Nanaimo, who was in this city yesterday, received a telegram about 3 o'clock from Nanaimo stating that his clerk, a young man named Coleman, had been drowned in Nanaimo River. Immediately upon receipt of this intelligence, Mr. Cosser left for the scene of the sad accident.

Another Eve

By JANE DIXON

CHAPTER XIII
 Two weeks of the month Eve must remain confined to the "Duplex" ever since her damaged ankles and regaining her strength were marked off on the calendar. The big event of each day was the drawing of a heavy black line through another milestone. How time crawled when all one could do was mark it.

Then there was the bitter fact she was accepting Jeffrey Tilford's money for living or recovery. Kitty had absolutely forbidden Eve's "butting in" on the arrangements already made.

"Nothing is dumber than dumb pride," Kitty insisted. "I've got plenty on my conscience, yipping like I did how you must go out with Little Caesar when you were all against this proposition. If I'd kept my trap shut you'd have stayed here in the Duplex that night of the accident or maybe gone table-dehors with Phil. So what? So I'm trying to square the damage I've done and the best way to do it is to get you as good as new. That means money. So the great stupid demon who smashed you up furnishes the money, or what? I'll furnish the money, and I'll furnish the brains. This is my case, pal. You just lean back and be patient."

One evening Kitty came in from work in a rush. Her arms were filled with packages. She tumbled on and into the kitchenette sink.

"Hi, pal," she greeted Eve. "I'm in a dither? Guess who's coming to take pot-luck with us tonight?"

"Phil?" eagerly.

"Um, but he's just an added starter, not the big surprise."

"Not—no Jeff?" fearfully.

"That's just who you think I cook for, the fuzziest? I'm just a plain old short order cook. Water was running in the sink full force while Kitty rattled pots and pans. "Since you can't play fiddles, I'll tell you the answer. It's Sam Sneed!"

"How does Sam happen to be coming to see us?" Eve asked.

"He doesn't happen to be," Kitty opened the card table, put it beside the couch and gave Eve peas to hold. "I extended our distinguished manager a hand engraved invitation and he snipped it up like a hungry turtle. Then I got Phil, so there'd be a fourcourse for bridge."

Eve laughed so peas rolled on the floor. "You know we don't play bridge, idiot!"

"Well, it sounds good anyhow, don't it?" Kitty countered.

"A merry party it was, the men helping Kitty and the dish-dish-dish of them sitting comfortable afterward, Sam telling tales inside news about what went on in the papers, Kitty furnishing the comedy relief, and Eve reminding them of the Venus de Milo. With the arm up-thrust, of course.

SEABISCUIT WINS AFTER CLOSE RACE

Mystery Surrounds Victory Over Ligarotti in $25,000 Classic Event

DEL MAR, Cal., Aug. 12 (AP)—Seabiscuit and Ligarotti met in a sensational race at a mile and an eighth here today and while the former won by a head, much mystery attended the $25,000 match. The jockeys, George Woolf, of Cardston, Alta., on Seabiscuit, and Noel Richardson, aboard the South American horse, were suspended until further notice and stewards held a meeting tomorrow morning.

The stewards ruled the race official, with a new track record of 1:49. Ligarotti took a nose lead over C. S. Howard's big money winner soon after the start and was in the lead most of the race. The return half-mile both horses were under the whip, close together, near the rail. Ligarotti is owned by Lin Howard, son of C. S. Howard and Bing Crosby, screen and radio star. Both jockeys went to the stand immediately after the race and it seems that Richardson complained about Woolf leg-locking him. But the stewards promptly announced that nothing would be said about it all until after tomorrow's hearing.

Seabiscuit, five-year-old son of Hardack, takes the $25,000 to add to his past winnings for a total of $319,295.

"B" TEAMS WILL PLAY TOMORROW

On Sunday the "B" team from George Vale will meet the "B" team of the most of the return half-mile both horses were under the whip, close together, near the rail. Ligarotti is owned by Lin Howard, son of C. S. Howard and Bing Crosby, screen and radio star. Both jockeys went to the stand immediately after the race and it seems that Richardson complained about Woolf leg-locking him. But the stewards promptly announced that nothing would be said about it all until after tomorrow's hearing.

Seabiscuit, five-year-old son of Hardack, takes the $25,000 to add to his past winnings for a total of $319,295.

DEL MAR, Cal., Aug. 12 (AP)—Seabiscuit and Ligarotti met in a sensational race at a mile and an eighth here today and while the former won by a head, much mystery attended the $25,000 match. The jockeys, George Woolf, of Cardston, Alta., on Seabiscuit, and Noel Richardson, aboard the South American horse, were suspended until further notice and stewards held a meeting tomorrow morning.

The stewards ruled the race official, with a new track record of 1:49. Ligarotti took a nose lead over C. S. Howard's big money winner soon after the start and was in the lead most of the race. SEAPLANE MERCURY NOT LEAVING ENGLAND UNTIL EARLY IN SEPTEMBER

MONTREAL, August 12.—The Imperial Airways long-range seaplane Mercury, due in Montreal on its second trans-Atlantic flight next week, will not come until early in September, according to a cable received today by the Trans-Canada Airlines. The flight has been postponed due to a decision of the Imperial Airways to use the Mercury elsewhere for the time being. Where this is has not been revealed.

In the meantime arrangements are being forward at Boucherville, on the St. Lawrence River, for her reception. Several changes have been made in the morning. No. 1 buoy is now 300 feet ahead of the landing stage and No. 2 buoy has been placed 400 feet upstream. The changes are to facilitate take-offs. It will now be possible to release the plane from the landing stage if necessary instead of from a boat. A tail line 300 feet long is used with a quick release device.

The Mercury made history on July 20-21 when she flew non-stop to Montreal from Foyers, Eire, in a little more than twenty hours. It was the first commercial flight over the North Atlantic route. The Mercury, crossed the 2,000 miles of ocean in 13 hours 29 minutes, eclipsing the previous record of 14 hours, 24 minutes set by the flying boat Cambria a year ago.

Weddings

ASHWORTH-CHECKLEY

Late Summer flowers arranged in St. Alban's Church made a charming setting for the marriage of Marjorie Ellen, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Checkley, 1350 Merritt Street, and Mr. Arnold Ashworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ashworth, 1389 Seaview Avenue, which was solemnized last evening at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. F. Conley officiating.

The attractive bride, who was given away by her father, wore a frock of ivory tulle with a floor-length skirt and short sleeves, which were reached by long kid gloves, her lovely veil of Brussels lace falling from a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of butterfly roses, carnations and swansonia. Miss Sylvia Checkley was her sister's bridesmaid, in a pretty frock of turquoise blue tulle, worn with a blue tulle hat trimmed with a veil and pink flowers, who carried an arm bouquet of blue delphiniums, pink larkspur and Briarcliffe roses. Mr. Frank Le Pajdevan was best man.

The wedding marches were played by Mrs. Swan, and as the register was being signed, the bride's cousin, Miss Eileen Timperley, sang "Through the Years."

A small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony, during which the bride and groom stood beneath a floral arch to receive their friends.

MORE DIFFICULT

James had obtained a position as a butler and become very friendly with the other servants of the house. "In my last place I used to take things fairly easily," he said. "Well, it's different here, I've learned one of the servants, 'They keep everything locked up.'"

KNOW THE ROPES

A reporter was trying to interview Viscount Northcliffe. "No, my friend," said the proprietor of more than five newspapers, "I'm too much in the business, you know, to stand for newspaper interviews. I'm like the little boy at the Sunday school treat who, when the squares wife came round to him with straw-berries jam, promptly said, 'No thank you, I work at the place where they make it.'"

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

So many players, blindly adhere to the ancient but discredited principle, "second hand low," that I shall devote this column for three days running to the exposure of the myth.

The fact is that there can be no good rule as to "whether second hand should play high or low." There are at least three outstanding reasons under varying circumstances for second hand's playing high instead of low. One reason may be to preserve partner's entry; another, as a pure deception play; and the third as a blocking measure. Today's hand illustrates the last named reason.

The bidding:
South West North East
3 NT Pass Pass Pass
3 NT Pass Pass Pass
It will be noted that South did not have a good opening two bid, despite his six honor tricks. He also had at least six losers and of course, the rule is that a two bid must be based on more honor tricks than losers. When North, however, responded with one spade, South correctly jumped all the way to game in no trump. Incidentally I had better point out that this jump is by no means a knee-closing effort. It shows an enormous hand and, in that sense, invites partner to proceed. North, indeed, might well have gone to four spades, since his hand was devoid of outside entries and, hence, not well adapted to no trump play. Against the actual three no trump contract West opened the diamond queen. Declarer won and a count of tricks was very satisfactory. In sight were only two hearts, two diamonds and two clubs. Even if the club suit broke 3-2, South still would need two spade tricks to take out his contract. To that end he led the nine of spades, and when West played low ducked in dummy. East did his best to save the situation by holding up his king, but the damage already had been done. Declarer promptly switched to clubs, leading the ace and a small one, and by setting up a low club, reached the point at which only the ace of spades was needed for the ninth trick.

Here was a glorious opportunity for "second hand high." West, on declarer's lead of the nine of spades, should have put in his queen with alacrity and dispatch. The vital consideration was to prevent dummy's suit from being brought in and, if possible, to keep declarer from making even two spade tricks. The immediate play of the queen was by all odds the best method of obtaining that end. Note the effect it would have had. If declarer won, with dummy's ace East could win the next round with the king. If the queen were permitted to hold, declarer would be in no better position. He would have only one spade left and this would permit only the cashing of the ace. This type of defensive play comes up whenever dummy has a long suit and no outside entry and it will pay players to study the situation.

Social and Personal

Birthday Celebration

An enjoyable picnic was held on Wednesday afternoon in Beacon Hill Park, when twenty friends and neighbors gathered to celebrate the eightieth birthday of Mrs. Emily McCrie, 1023 McClure Street. The tables were decorated with roses and sweet peas and a large birthday cake. When the guest of honor arrived, she was greeted with "Happy Birthday to You," and expressed her delight and surprise appropriately. After tea, an impromptu programme was arranged, consisting of songs, readings, and recitations by different members of the group. Each lady was called upon to give a short sketch of her life in Ontario, on the Prairie and in Victoria. Many interesting stories were told, but the highlight of the causerie was Mrs. McCrie's account of her life in Ontario, Ont., of the old stone house, best-beloved of all her homes, where she was born, spent a happy childhood and was married before leaving for Kyle, Sask. Mrs. McCrie had ten children, four sons and six daughters, all of whom are living, as well as thirty-four grandchildren, and ten great-grandchildren. She thanked her friends cordially for the surprise arranged in her honor and the afternoon was brought to a close by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

Party Is Given

Prior in honor of Miss Aileen Longworth, whose marriage to Mr. Floyd Frank, Terrace, B.C., takes place this evening at 8 o'clock in the First United Church. The room was prettily decorated in a pink and white color scheme with carnations and gladioli, centred round a table on which was a bride cake. When the guests were assembled, the bride-to-be was led to a corner of the room where the many gifts were concealed in a "Little Red Schoolhouse." The guests included Mrs. J. Longworth, Mrs. C. ## Sum of $167 Results From Church Fete

SALTSRING ISLAND, Aug. 12.—The annual church fete and garden party of St. Mary's Church took place on Tuesday afternoon in the grounds belonging to and kindly lent by Mr. H. W. Bullock Ganges. The fete, which was organized by the Ganges Woman's Auxiliary and members of St. Mary's Church Guild, Fulford Harbor, was formally opened at 2:30 p.m. by Very Rev. Spencer Elliott, who, after introducing the Vicar, Rev. C. H. Popham, expressed his pleasure at being present, congratulated the people on their beautiful surroundings, and thanked Mr. Bullock for his kindness in lending his grounds and tennis court for the day's entertainment.

In the tennis tournament, organized by Miss Sheila Huley and Basil Robinson, the prize winners were Mrs. O. Friele and Miss Mary Tucker, second, Mrs. H. A. Le Marquand and Mrs. Weddell. An exceedingly attractive and well patronized candy stall, prettily arranged in inguise and yellow, the colors of the W.A., was presided over by Mrs. J. C. Kingsbury and Miss Betty Kingsbury. ## Tells of Horror In China's War

BANFF SPRINGS HOTEL, Alta., Aug. 12.—Miss Barbara Collins has just arrived here from China, where she has been connected with the Educational Department for Shanghai for seven years. Miss Collins, who is a graduate of Cambridge, England, has been through the entire war in China, and has been doing voluntary Red Cross work, visiting camps, etc. She gives a most harrowing picture of the sufferings there. "Catholics," she says, "have not the faintest conception of the atrocities being committed by the Japanese." She would like to talk to those interested in small groups to enlist here and in England, to where she is returning on furlough, while there through a series of lectures, Miss Collins will give valuable first-hand information regarding conditions in China.

What Today Means

"LEO"
If August 13 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until noon, from 2 to 4 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m.; from 6 to 8 p.m.; and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

There is likely to be a good deal of constructive criticism offered today. Should you have any offered to you it might be advisable to accept it graciously. You are apt to find most of your friends in a very amicable frame of mind and ready to help you in any reasonable manner. If you require their assistance there are probably going to be a number of incentives offered to you to put aside routine work for some kind of social activity. If in seeking pleasure you do not inconvenience or work a hardship on someone else, by all means do so for mental and physical relaxation may be needed by you. Indifference will perhaps be a rule rather than an exception with many people today. It is probably going to be a fault that will be responsible for most of the expressions of condemnation heard apparently coming to you to luxuriate in the comforts that money alone can provide. You are in all likelihood, a very level headed person and fully capable of managing your own affairs. People born on this date must be very careful about entering into business partnerships for generally the women of Leo work much better alone than they do when tied up with someone else. Be careful that your love for personal pleasures does not interfere with your ambition to be a success in some line of work. ## Cubs Score Easy Win Over Pirates In National Loop

Chicago Club Hits Ball With Vengeance to Trim Leaders, 9-3—Giants Nose Out Phillies, 1-0—Yankees and Mackmen Divide—Ten Homers Hit—Cleveland Splits Twin Bill

Chicago's challenging Cubs made a personal probe into Pittsburgh's National League pennant proceedings yesterday and found that two of the Pirates' best hitters could be touched for sixteen hits—sufficient to win 9-3.

After Pittsburgh jumped into a short-lived one-run lead in the third, the Cubs began getting to Jim Tobin, who now has won ten and lost six and finally forced him to the showers in the seventh after Stan Hack holed a home-run into the right-field stands with one on.

Mace "Fireman" Brown, only other Pirate pitcher who has won ten or more games, failed to put out the conflagration and Chicago added three more runs in the ninth.

Bill Lee, in winning his fourteenth against eight defeats, spread seven hits among the Pirates.

The Bees regained fifth place in the standings with a 2-1 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Jim Turner gave up seven hits and did not walk a man in chalking up his tenth win of the year. The only run scored off him came on Dolph Camilli's homer in the second.

GIANTS TRIUMPH
The New York Giants made their first appearance at Shibe Park since the World Series of 1913, and nipped the Phillies, 1-0, behind the three-hit hurling of Harry Gumbert.

By his performance, Gumbert became the first Giant hurler to go the route in two weeks, and the first to pitch a shutout since July 4.

Since the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates lost to Chicago, the win boosted the Giants to within five and one-half games of the pace. The Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics divided a double-header, during which ten home runs were hit for the entertainment of 2,864 paying customers and 8,719 "ladies' day" guests.

Bob Johnson's twenty-fourth home run of the year in the ninth inning of the opener gave the A's a 4-1 decision, and handed Red Ruffing his fourth pitching loss of the season, against fifteen victories. In the nightcap, the Yanks clubbed three pitchers for sixteen hits and a 16-3 decision, with George Selkirk whacking two homers and driving in eight runs.

PLENTY OF HOMERS
Line-drive Lynn Nelson and Ruffing hooked up in a mound-duel in the first game, disturbed only by the occasional round-trip wallop from both sides. Joe DiMaggio clouded his twenty-second in the first-inning, during which ten home runs were hit for the entertainment of 2,864 paying customers and 8,719 "ladies' day" guests.

The Cleveland Indians and Chicago's White Sox broke even in a double-header, the first in the series, the first 12-8, in ten innings and Chicago taking the second, 6-5, when Norman Schuster singled with one on in the ninth to break the tie.

The Washington Senators pounded four Boston pitchers for a 13-1 victory. Dutch Leonard allowing the Red Sox only seven hits.

On his birthday last night by winning his nineteenth game of the season before the largest crowd in the city.

Allowing five "hits," "Hutch" doled out six "runs," 3-2, to make it three in a row.

Friday's bout established the big 200-pound right-hander as perhaps the greatest current arm in the Coast League.

Attendance from 11,000 to last night's 15,000, estimated by Business Manager Bill Mulligan, have watched the boy amaze his nineteen triphits against six defeats and become the leading league hurler.

Hutchinson got a base hit and scored a run in "Seattle's big inning" to help his own cause along.

LEADERS HOLD THEIR PLACES
Top Elevens Keep Positions In English County Cricket League

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Leaders in the English county cricket championship held their places today although Yorkshire's margin over the second-place Middlesex eleven was reduced.

Yorkshire took first-innings points from Warwickshire and Middlesex gained the maximum twelve points with an innings and eighteen-run victory over Kent.

Somerset improved its position, with a ten-wicket triumph over the fast-slipping Lancashire team and the Gloucestershire-Nottinghamshire match was abandoned owing to rain.

This match, rained out all three days, is not included in the standings.

In other matches concluded today Sussex defeated Leicestershire by an innings and 32 runs and Essex won on the first innings from Northamptonshire. Although ahead on the first innings Hampshire lost to Glamorgan by 148 runs.

The Australians-Surrey fixture ended in a draw when rain interrupted today's play. The Aussies compiled a first-innings score of 297 and Surrey had scored 109 runs for seven wickets when the contest was called.

THE SCORES
Warwickshire 263 and 14 runs for one wicket, Yorkshire 324.

Kent 107 and 87; Middlesex 212 for nine declared.

Lancashire 160 and 139; Somerset, 233 and 87 runs for no wickets.

Cameron Ball Squad Trounces Stevedores In Play-Off Fixture

Hammers Out 9-2 Victory in Third Game of Lower Island Softball Championship Series—McLellan and Dale Hit Homers

It was Jack O'Connor's twenty-first birthday yesterday, and just for fun, or was it because they wanted to give their young fly-chucker a worth-while birthday present, Cameron Lumber Company softballers trounced the Victoria Longshoremen, 9-2, in the third game of the Lower Island series at the Royal Athletic Park.

McLellan did a double turn last night. He pitched winning ball, and certainly exploded the theory that good pitchers are weak hitters by crashing out a four-base knock in the sixth with two clubmates on the cushions.

Stevadores collected six bingles from McLellan, four of them coming in the seventh and eighth frames. In the latter inning they pushed across a pair of markys, their only runs of the game.

DUNCAN, Aug. 12.—In the open tennis tournament at the Duncan courts, where the championships of Vancouver Island are at stake, the men's singles title final will be an all-American battle when Bob Carruthers, of Coronado, Calif., will meet Arthur Marx, of Beverly Hills.

Reg Corfield, who met Carruthers in the semi-final bracket, put up a splendid fight in the first set and took Carruthers to extra games before conceding the set. He was obviously tired and lost the second, 6-1.

Arthur Marx won over Commander Edwards in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4.

EASTERN CHAMPIONS SCORE FINE VICTORY OVER MAINLAND SIDE

Capitalized on Scoring Opportunities to Register 3-1 Victory in Second Match of Dominion Football Final—Spencer Scores for Shores—Next Game Carded Today

By TRENT PRAYNE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
WINNIPEG, Aug. 12.—Deadly opportunists, Timmins Dome Mines capitalized on three scoring opportunities tonight to defeat Vancouver North Shore United, 3-1, in the second game of a best-of-three series for the Dominion football championship.

The Eastern champions need only a draw in the third game tomorrow to win the national title. The first game was drawn 1-1, Wednesday.

Football worthy of any D.F.A. final was played by both clubs tonight. North Shore younger heavier were outgeneraled in the first half by the clever-passing Easterners.

They appeared over-anxious and over-ran the ball on several occasions.

Centre-Forward George Chambers, one of the headiest players ever to appear here, figured in all Dome goals, scoring once and passing to Henry Lone and Willie Whyte for the others.

His shifty manoeuvres outwitted the Western "rear-guard" repeatedly.

ON THE DEFENCE
In the second half Dome was content to play defensive football and North Shore did all the pressure.

Their untiring efforts were rewarded in the closing stages when Jimmy Spencer drove a terrific shot into the roof of the net from a point-blank range.

More than 3,000 spectators witnessed the cleanly-fought game. Both first-half goals were engineered by Chambers, the first at the eight-minute mark when the centre forward's shot rolled into the left corner of the net.

Chambers again outwitted the North Shore defence when he passed to Willie Whyte after getting into the clear himself. Whyte converted the pass easily.

Shortly after the second period opened, Chambers trickled a pass between the Western fullbacks, and Henry Lone raced in from the left to pick up the ball and rifle it home.

Dome moved to the offensive from the start, with Centre-Forward George Chambers twice missing the net narrowly with headers on Willie Whyte's corner kicks.

North Shore came right back and McManus missed the uprights with a thirty-foot drive. After eight minutes Dome scored. Whyte took a goal kick at midfield and fired a lateral pass to Henry Lone, who in turn centred the ball to Chambers.

The latter caught the corner with a shot that never left the ground.

Then Lone sped through the defence on Chambers' pass but booted his shot over the crossbar.

Goalie John Rabbit came out of his net to clear a loose ball, with Chambers right in. The clever centre-forward was back in scoring position seconds later, but instead of shooting passed to Whyte who blasted a short shot past Rabbit to make the score 2-0.

Goalie Baxter made a great fall, save at the other end, and McManus after a corner kick.

INCREASES LEAD
Two minutes after the second half opened, Dome increased its advantage. Chambers laid a beautiful pass through the defence. Henry Lone raced in unopposed to pick up the ball and rifle it home.

Three goals behind, North Shore swung to the offensive and for minutes held the ball inside the Dome eighteen-yard mark but could not beat Goalie Baxter, who made several fine saves.

Dome made little attempt to organize an attack being content to play defensive football. Fullbacks Barnes and Lone covered in front of the goal and booted the ball down the field at every opportunity.

Near the end, the persistent North Shore efforts were rewarded when Jimmy Spencer lashed a short drive to the right corner after taking Mike McManus pass.

Right after his goal, Spencer came back again and his header hit the crossbar off Harvey's freak kick. Lie-up.

Vancouver—Rabbit, Cummings and Harrison; Karolin, Harvey and Goodheart; Liptrort, Robinson, McManus, Spencer and Christie.

CONSERVATIVE BOXLA SQUAD DEFEATS BAYS

Checks In With 8-5 Victory
—James Bay and Terriers Win

Turning in their best exhibition of the season, Manager Cornes' Conservatives upset the dog bracket in the senior boxla loop last night when they defeated James Bay, 8-5, at Victoria West Park. The victory advanced the Conservatives into the final round of the city championship series.

Fast and keenly contested all of the way, the battle was one of the best of the season. Conservatives dropped into the second division earlier in the schedule, really came to life last night and handed Manager Bert Buller's protégés the biggest surprise packet of the year.

In the first session the clubs matched goal for goal and the quarter ended with the score 3-3. Mitchell, Clanton and Brown sagged the help for the Bays, while "Red" Baker bagged two for the Conservatives and Bob Mair accounted to the other.

The pace quickened in the second canto and with plenty of close checking goals came slowly. Conservatives, having a slight edge in the play, managed to outscore their opponents 9-3. Entwistle added a pair of markers for the winners and Coleman registered the third. Mitchell and Clanton were the scorers for the Bays.

Leading by the odd goal going into the third canto, Conservatives widened their margin when Baker and Entwistle fired home their third markers of the match. Score for the evening finished at 8-5, but in the scoreless final stanza there were many close calls.

Mages, guarding the pipes for the winners, turned in a grand performance and his fine work was partly responsible for the Conservatives' great triumph.

BAYS BEAT EQUIVALENT

SEASON WILL OPEN TODAY

Scottish Football Teams to Start Lengthy Schedule—Games Set

GLASGOW, Aug. 12—Players are something out of season "kinks" and soundmen all over the country are reuniting football pitches in preparation for the Scottish League's opening tomorrow. The British circuit starts two weeks later.

As usual, sideline critics are busy picking their choice for league and cup honors, and again the logical choice seems to rest between Glasgow's Celtic and Rangers, Dundee and Hearts of Edinburgh.

The Celtic are defending league champions, while the Hearts and Rangers are finishing in second and third places, respectively, at the close of the campaign.

Consensus seems to be that the Division club will retain the historic Scottish Cup, taken last season by East Fife Second Division in their first time in that circuit's history.

BOOKS WILL BE AUDITED

Vancouver Firm Appointed By Arbitration Board To Do Work

VANCOUVER, Aug. 12 (AP)—The arbitration board, conducting an inquiry in an attempt to fix 1938 salmon prices for Northern British Columbia waters, today appointed the chartered accounting firm of Peat Marwick Company, after bankers and fishermen failed to agree on an auditor to examine the books of four salmon packing companies.

Peat Marwick Company will go through the books of Anglo-British Columbia Packers, Ltd.; British Columbia Packers, Ltd.; Canadian Fishing Company, Ltd.; and J. H. Todd & Sons, Ltd. firms, which pack more than 75 per cent of the salmon caught in the area in question.

The review will extend from 1933 to 1937, the auditors reviewing the packing costs of the four companies to decide whether their 1937 figures are a fair standard as representative of the industry's costs. The company undertook to pay the expenses of the review, which were not expected to exceed $10,000.

It was expected the review would take two weeks. All future hearings of the arbitration tribunal will be in camera.

SHIPPING MAN TAKES HOLIDAY
Henry King Confines His Well-Earned Outing to Salt Water

Henry King, who generally thinks about shipyard lumber cargoes during his long working hours and probably dreams of them when he gets to bed, is away with Mrs. King and family to take a well-earned holiday on the coast of British Columbia in the more profitable area of timber lands nearer home are logged off. He will go as far as Hyder, Alaska, on the Union Steamship Company's S. S. Normandy.

Before leaving Victoria yesterday afternoon to join the Catala at Vancouver, Mr. King stated there was a bit of a lull in the offshore lumber trade at the present time, so he decided to drop everything for a well-earned holiday, hoping to get in shape for what he said was going to be the biggest movement of lumber for overseas ports ever experienced from this range.

He started enumerating the ships that are fixed to take cargo from British Columbia coast ports in the next few months, but the tally got too long to set down here.

SUNDAY OUTINGS
Tomorrow, Vancouver Island Coach Lines will operate excursions to a number of points adjacent to Victoria, including OUTLIER to Shawnigan Lake via the Cut-Off Road and Sooke Harbor, Woodside Farm and Whiffen Spit. The coaches will leave the local depot at 10 a.m.

Jane Dixon Says:

TODAY WE HAVE THE STORY OF AN EIGHTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL WHO SUFFERS FROM A STRANGE FEAR OF "DINING OUT."

Of all the strange phobias which have come to my attention, the one in today's letter is the most absurd. A phobia is an irrational fear or dread, dominating the mentality. Here is an example that will prove how absurd a phobia really can be.

Dear Miss Dixon: Ever since I was a small girl I have been afraid to eat out. However, when I was eighteen, I overcame this fear to the extent that I would enter a restaurant where there were booths, and I also manage to eat in such places today without too much embarrassment.

I am invited to a dinner to be given in a hotel for a girl from our office who is to be married soon. I dread this affair because I always feel so ill at ease when dining out.

Is there any way to overcome this fear?—Sincerely,

Comment: This columnist is not a psychiatrist, but were I in your condition I should make a determined and unrelenting fight against fear by turning on it every gun of reason I could muster.

Ask yourself of what you are afraid? Are you afraid of spoons, of knives and forks, of china, of food, of human beings who serve food, of the friend beside you or across the table?

Are you uncertain about your table manners?

Dissect the entire operation of "eating out" and see if any step in the process terrors you with fear. If you find none, then you are afraid of nothing, so you have no real fear. Just a bugaboo.

A child may entertain an unreasonable fear because the child's mind is not developed to a point of sound reasoning. To carry this fear into adult life is to submit to the dictate of a bugaboo of the kind which unwise parents use to frighten little children.

Try to remember when you are eating in a hotel dining-room, for example, that very few, if any, of your fellow-diners care a hoot about you, who you are, why you are there, what you order. They are interested in the food and their companions.

If you are uncertain of your table manners, buy a book of etiquette—there are many first-rate ones on the market—and tone up on the proprieties of "eating out." When in doubt, observe others who judge are up on this subject and follow their example.

When you go to your friend's dinner forget yourself. Think of her happiness, of the graciousness of the occasion, of the attractiveness of the dinner table, the savour of the food, the congeniality of your co-workers. Think of the privilege it is to be one of this gay company and let your heart be warm. A warm heart has no niche for morbid fear.

Order your mind to take command!
